North Yorkshire Police Crime Prevention Strategy

Outcomes

Effective outcomes via problem solving.

A quantifiable reduction in the threat, risk, harm, and demands associated with crime, anti-social behaviour and other preventable demand

Reduced Offending.

- Tackle the causes of offending
- Tackle the opportunities to offend

Reduced victimisation.

Tackle drivers and vulnerabilities associated with victimisation

Cultural change.

Embed preventive policing as the core police function to maximise opportunities to prevent crime, decrease harm and reduce demand through problem solving

How will we achieve them?

Reducing Demand - Through Effective, sustainable problem solving.

- Structured problem solving with partners
- Understanding problems
- Effective ownership of problems
- The most appropriate cost effective intervention at the earliest opportunity
- Evaluating and understanding interventions and outcomes

Secondary Crime Prevention.

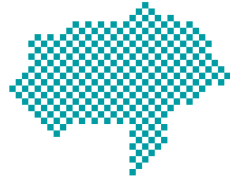

With Partners - targeting those at high risk of a life of crime. (e.g. early Intervention, drug and alcohol and troubled families Programmes)

Primary Crime Prevention.

- Preventing people from becoming victims
- Targeted and effective situational crime prevention focussing on
- Problem Analysis Triangle (Victim / Offender / Location)

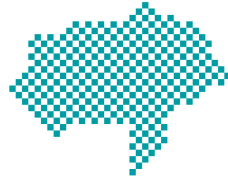

Tertiary Crime Prevention – Managing those who pose most risk.

- Deal with the criminal / individual, not just the crime or vulnerability
- Use the most appropriate intervention (e.g. targeted operations IOM, restorative justice, and the courts).
- Ensure national, regional and local analysis is used to allow all staff to assist in tackling high risk offenders (eg OCGs) and protecting their potential victims
